

Content

PREFACE / PRÉFACE	7
THIS BOOK IS ABOUT CHEMISTRY, BUT IT IS NOT A CHEMISTRY BOOK	13
Food contains vital as well as life-threatening components	15
LOOKING FOR FRONT-RUNNERS IN THE FIELD OF SUSTAINABILITY	25
- A load of corn!	27
- Corn turns hamster mothers into cannibals	35
- Glyphosate has become the world's most widely used weed killer, which could well be serious cause for concern	45
- Shouldn't we say "yes" to genetically edited food crops?	61
- By uncovering its genetic journey, researchers believe they can restore the flavour of the old-fashioned tomato	73
- No more worries about slaughtered animals	79
- Providing food security while remaining within the safe operating space of planetary boundaries	89
FOOD PROCESSING AND PACKAGING	113
- Cinnamon, one of the most delicious and healthiest spices on the planet	115
- Plastic Attack	129
- Astaxanthin from shrimp waste: a useful ingredient in shrimp packaging	141
- From exceptional delicacy to addiction	151
- Be ambitious, cut resource use, reduce waste and boost recycling!	163
- How to avoid mineral oil from getting into packaged food?	175

- Humanity’s “ancestral microbial heritage” must be preserved	185
SHOULD WE BE THANKFUL FOR THE FOOD WE GET TO EAT?	193
- A growing appetite for fast food	195
- Love hormone oxytocin’s boozy characteristics	205
- Grubs can be eaten raw and when they are cooked they taste like roasted almonds – or so they say!	215
- Gourmet products from the sea affected by plastic debris	229
- Which is worse: a policy that costs jobs or lives?	235
- If you want less packaging waste, swallow the package!	249
- Are food manufacturers always fair about their products?	261
THE BETTER APPROACH CONSIDERS CHEMICAL INTERACTIONS	273
- The fallacy of adding drug effects	275
- Cocktail effects must be taken very seriously	287
- Tackling the contaminant cocktail with a cocktail of techniques	301
IF WE ARE TO SEPARATE THE WHEAT FROM THE CHAFF, THEN WE NEED TO ADOPT A SOUNDER ETHICAL APPROACH	313
- The world we live in depends on chemicals	315
- “We didn’t know” is no excuse	329
- Mayhem caused by chemicals happens in utero	341
- Living in accordance with nature. Has anything really changed?	349
Glossary	359
THIS BOOK IS BASED ON THE INVESTIGATIONS OF A GREAT MANY SCIENTISTS. TO QUOTE SIR ISAAC NEWTON: “I STAND ON THE SHOULDERS OF GIANTS”	363
- Acknowledgments	365,